We have a problem that is hurting me and my consumers. They only get so many hours of care even though it isn't enough and I can't get enough hours to work as much as I need to. The client's needs are not being met. Some of my clients don't have coverage on the weekends. This means they can get injured and no one is there to make sure they're ok.

PCA's need to make higher wages and be paid for the work they do since so many of us do a lot of work for free because we really care about what happens to our consumers. We need to be able to get more training so we can take better care of our consumers and we need sick days and health insurance so we can take care of ourselves.
